IN CIRCUIT COURT

VERDICT WAS RENDERED IN THE SKIDMORE-BREIT SUIT.

DEFENDANT WINS CASE

Glen Barton, Who Assaulted Marshal, Pleaded Guilty and was Fined $200.

The case of James A. Glover vs. D. T. Garrett, which will be one of the sensational and important cases to come to trial at this term, will probably come up late this afternoon in circuit court, the first thing Saturday morning. Both of the parties are from Burlington Junction, and over 125 Junction people came to Maryville today as witnesses in the case.

The suit is for $25,000 damages for the alienation of Glover's wife's affections. According to the petition the acts complained of are charged to have been committed October 15, 1911, and a time prior to that. The case will be hotly contested, and the attorneys for the plaintiff are Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison of this city and Jesse F. Robertson of Burlington Junction, and Wright & Ford and Cook, Cummins & Dawson for the defendant.

Mr. Garrett, the defendant in the case, was formerly in the hardware business in Maryville and was president of the Northwestern bank at Burlington Junction, selling out about a year ago.

The jury in the case of E. H. Caudle vs. L. Whitten and A. L. Kivett, an appeal from J. P. court, was tried before a jury of six this morning and a verdict was given for the plaintiff, finding for him for $93.60 and attorney's fees of $25.

This afternoon the suit of Lewis Hammond vs. A. C. Ford was on trial before a jury of six. This case is an appeal from J. P. court, and is for damages to a wheat drill that is charged defendant failed to return in good condition.

The case of Charles D. Skidmore vs. Fred Breit was on trial Thursday in circuit court and the jury, after hearing the case, gave a decision finding for the defendant. The suit grows out of an assignment of a $1,000 life insurance policy by Mrs. Skidmore a few days before she died. The assignment was made to Fred Breit, father of Mrs. Skidmore, and the plaintiff charged in his petition that the assignment was made as the result of fraudulent representations.

Glen Barton, the young man who assaulted Marshal G. A. Jones of Sheridan at a church dinner at Gaynor City last summer, pleaded guilty and was fined $200. He was paroled, however, for good cause shown, and upon payment of $10 of the fine and costs.

Jack Beggs, charged with selling intoxicating liquor, pleaded guilty to three charges, but his punishment was not assessed by the court.

Wm. Lindsay, charged with disturbing the peace, was given six months in the county jail.

In the case of A. H. Churchill vs. Mace Wilson, an appeal from the justice of peace court, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing the damages at $28.

Sheriff Tilson reported that he had added the names of James Patterson, L. E. White, Willis Wamsley, Mack Moore and R. R. Smith to the regular petit jury.

WAS NINETY-SIX YEARS OLD.

Mrs. Katherine Hart of Clyde, Who Died Early Thursday Morning, Lived in County 36 Years.

Mrs. Katherine Hart, a native of Ireland, where she was born ninety-six years ago, died at her home, one mile west of New Engleberg Abbey church, early Thursday morning, after a long illness. One week ago Sunday she fell down stairs and broke one of her shoulder blades. A light attack of pneumonia set in with the injury, and that is what hastened her death.

The funeral services will be held Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at New Engleberg Abbey church by the Rev. Fr. Placidus. Burial in St. Columbia cemetery.

Mrs. Hart and her husband settled on the place on which she died thirty-six years ago. Her husband had the contract for grading on the Wabash railroad when it was being built, having charge of the grading from Stanberry through Jefferson township to Long Branch. Both he and his wife were so favorable impressed with the country that they did not go further, and bought land and settled with their family. They had been in camp on the place where Clyde now is, while he was superintending the work of grading. Their sons followed the work their father did for a number of years, but retired to the farm to assist their mother in managing the farm. Their father's death occurred soon after they came to the Clyde country.

The children surviving are James at home; Miss Ellen Hart of Phillips, S. D., who was summoned home by her mother's illness; Mrs. Johanna Corcoran of St. Joseph and Mrs. Jennie Loftus of St. Joseph. Daniel Hart, another son, died about fifteen years ago.

Mrs. Hart is well remembered by the older residents of Maryville. She was a good business woman, cheery and pleasant to meet, and had many friends wherever she was known.

Returned to North Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roney of Oaks, N. D., who have been visiting in Maryville with Mr. Roney's sisters, Mrs. J. Ed Costello and Mrs. F. M. Ryan, and P. F. Roney, left for their home Friday. Last Sunday J. Ed Costello, P. F. Roney and Charles Roney made a trip to Fairbury, Neb., in Mr. Costello's car and visited James Roney and family.

MAKING NEW TREATY

NEGOTIATIONS WITH RUSSIA ALMOST COMPLETE.

DETAILS NOT WORKED OUT

Rupture of Commercial Relations Resulting From Treatment of Jewish Situation May Be Averted.

Washington, Nov. 15.—An agreement between the United States and Russia to take the place of the commercial treaty of 1832, the abrogation of which will become effective January 1, virtually has been reached, according to information from high official authority.

This advanced stage in the negotiations has been attained only after a number of conversations between Secretary of State Knox and the Russian ambassador, M. Bakhmeteff, beginning last summer and continued at frequent intervals, the last having just been concluded.

That course was adopted rather than the usual method of exchange of formal notes, as better calculated to obtain a speedy disclosure of the existing conditions in the United States and Russia likely to affect the two governments in their efforts to prevent a complete rupture of their vast commercial relations.

Details Not Worked Out.

Only in a general way can it be said that an understanding exists that such a breach shall not take place, for the details of the arrangement remain to be worked out.

Owing to the extreme delicacy of the subject and the possibility of the complete failure from the proposed agreement in event there should be public discussion and criticism, neither party to the negotiations is willing to throw any light upon the details of the arrangement. From such side light as is obtainable, however, it appears that Russia has not consented to modify its practice of refusing passports to Americans or other non-Russian Jews.

The czar's government always has held that Jews, even though they are American citizens, are not entitled to travel or reside in Russia, because the existing treaty provides that any American seeking to enter Russia shall submit to the laws and ordinances there prevailing.

Maximum Tariff May Not Apply.

The state department never has admitted the soundness of that contention and when congress, by resolution, ordered the denunciation of the treaty—the actual, though not the formal ground being this alleged discrimination against American citizens—the department's decision necessarily became unalterable.

It is said that in all probability Russia will meet the issue by refraining from applying its maximum (and practically exclusive) tariff duties to imports from America. In the ordinary course, after the lapse of the existing treaty December 31, these maximum rates would apply automatically to imports from a country with which Russia has no such trade treaty.

HE KILLED HIMSELF

TOOK CARBOLIC ACID THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

WIFE WAS NOT AT HOME

When Daughter Returned From Work She Found Father Lying on Bed, and a Note Told Sad Story.

Our citizens were shocked Thursday evening about 6 o'clock by the news that rapidly circulated around town that W. W. Byers, a well known resident of this city, had committed suicide by taking carbolic acid at his home, at 816 South Buchanan street.

Mrs. Byers was spending the day with her daughter, Mrs. C. T. Barrows, who lives west of Maryville, and had not returned home at 5:30 in the evening, when Mr. Byers' body was found by his daughter, Miss Marie Byers, who came home at that time from her work in Mrs. McCrary's millinery store. When Miss Byers went home and went into the house she called to her father, and receiving no answer, went upstairs, expecting to find him in the sitting room. He was not there, however, and she returned and went to his bedroom downstairs. She saw him lying on the bed and laughingly called:

"Papa, what made you go to bed at this time of day?" As he did not answer, she went to the bedside and put her hand on his face to awaken him. She was startled by the coldness, and on looking closer found that he was dead. Her screams soon brought the neighbors in, and a bottle of carbolic acid found soon told the tale.

Mr. Byers had been much distressed for several days over rumors that had gained currency in regard to certain indignities which it was charged he had offered Mrs. E. L. Holt, a niece of his wife. He had made a number of efforts to quiet these rumors, and in the note left by the dead man this was given as the cause for the suicide.

Mr. Byers was in good financial standing and there was nothing of that nature to worry him.

The members of his family were notified and were soon at home. His sister, Mrs. Belle Oliver of Shenandoah, Ia., and her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Andrews of the same place, arrived on the late Wabash train Thursday evening, and his son, Roy Byers of Savannah, came Friday noon.

Mr. Byers is survived by his wife and four children, who are Roy Byers, a farmer near Savannah; Mrs. C. T. Barrow, west of Maryville; Mrs. Edward M. Walker, north of Maryville, and Miss Marie Byers, at home.

William Walton Byers was born in Nodaway county, Mo., March 15, 1846, and has lived in this county all of his life. On March 12, 1871, he married Miss Sophina Rea, a sister of Judge David Rea of Rea, Mo. Eight children were born to them, three dying in infancy and a daughter, Mrs. Newton Hershberger, died April 21, 1897.

Mr. Byers was a successful farmer, and nine years ago he and his family moved here from Bolckow, where they had resided for some time.

The funeral services will be held at the home at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The body will live in state for the view of friends from 9 to 11 a. m.

DALBY HOTEL SOLD.

Furnishings Went Under the Hammer Thursday at Burlington Junction, Bringing $1,200.

The Dalby hotel at Burlington Junction, of which Mrs. A. H. Dalby had been proprietress for nineteen years, lacking one day, was sold at auction Thursday by Col. R. P. Hosmer of Maryville. The sale included the furnishings, as the hotel building did not belong to Mrs. Dalby. The price was $1,200. R. M. Spangler of Centralia, Kan., was the purchaser, and he will take possession the first of December. Mrs. Dalby has not decided on future plans, but will remain in Burlington Junction until spring.

Married at Barnard.

At the home of the bride, on Thursday evening, occurred the marriage of Mrs. Ida Lewis to H. S. Rector, both of Barnard. After Rev. Royston had securely tied the nuptial knot all were invited to a sumptuous feast. After a few hours of social enjoyment all returned home wishing them a long and happy life. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Tulloch, Ruth Merrel, Mrs. Ira French, Mrs. Hattie Merrel, Helen Merrel, Viola French, Lester French, Teddy French, Walton Lewis, Helen Lewis, Catharine Lewis, Maxwell Lewis.

Louis Jermain, 23-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Jermain of Clyde, died Wednesday night at his mother's home after two years' illness from consumption.

The funeral services will be held Saturday morning at New Engelberg Abbey church. Burial in St. Columbia cemetery.

The young man is survived by his mother, four brothers and two sisters, who are Joseph, Daniel and George, at home; Rev. Father John Jermain, the parish priest at Milan, Mo.; Anna, a sister in a convent at Cottonwood Falls, Idaho, and Miss Rosa Jermain, who is housekeeper for her brother, the Rev. Father Jermain of Milan.

WOMEN CELEBRATE

SUFFRAGE VICTORY IN KANSAS CAUSE FOR JOLLIFICATION.

BURNED THEIR HEADGEAR

Bonnets Consigned to the Flames in Token of Their Emancipation—Missouri Agitation Begun.

Pittsburg, Kan., Nov. 15.—"The lid that held us down for years is off."

With this exclamation from Mrs. Elizabeth Callean, chairman of the Crawford County Suffrage association, 200 women hurled old bonnets into a bonfire that had been built at the public square here, and amid cheers and song marched around the fire in celebration of the Kansas decision to grant its women the right to vote.

The demonstration opened with a meeting in the courthouse, with Mrs. Callean presiding. After an address by her, in which she explained some of the privileges the men of Kansas will have since the state has granted suffrage to the other sex, the women marched from the building and a bonfire was lighter.

Everyone carried an old "bonnet." With a cue from the chairman, hats of every hue sailed through the air. Then, joining hands, the women marched around the blazing "lids" and proclaimed their victory.

"Lid is Off Now."

"We shall not take the reins of government from the men's hands," said Mrs. Callean, "but we shall take an interesting part in saying into whose hands those reins shall fall. Of course, we'll allow the men as much as a bottle of soda probably once a week and a cigar each day. The lid has been on in the past, but it is off now. Those bonnets burning there mean that the women of Kansas have come into their own, and while we will not affiliate with any party, the party that wins in future is the one that gets our support."

More than a thousand persons witnessed the demonstration. In the excitement incident to the bonnet burning two men threw their hats into the fire and joined the parade around it.

Want It In Missouri Next.

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 15.—The victory of Kansas women in their campaign for equal suffrage, followed by a "bonnet burning" at Pittsburg, Kan., which added enthusiasm to the movement, prompted a call for a meeting of Missouri women to organize the fifteenth congressional district suffragists' league already issued from here.

The suffrage meeting is to be held here Saturday and women from Jasper, Barton, McDonald, Newton, Barry, Lawrence and Vernon counties are to attend with a view to organizing in a movement to place Missouri in the suffrage column.

Mearl O. Cook went to Kansas City Thursday evening on a short business visit.

Ferdinand M. Townsend returned Friday noon from St. Joseph, where he accompanied Mrs. Townsend on her way to Denver, Col.

THE JOKE TURNED

BAND OF YOUNG CONSPIRATORS KIDNAPPED FRIEND.

AN EXTRA ACT WAS ADDED

And the Curtain Was Still Up in the Cold Gray Dawn While the Victim Soundly Slept.

Wouldn't you think it a great stunt to forcibly seize, bind gag and handcuff a young man, take him to a lonely, deserted house miles and miles out in the country in the dead of night, leaving him there helpless and alone? And wouldn't it surprise you to learn that such things were happening in peaceful, law abiding Maryville, with the officers of the law apparently asleep?

There is a young salesman here in town who, by his genial ways, has made many friends among the young "bloods" of the town, but his good humor has often been sorely taxed by the tricks played upon him by the said Y. B's. However, he is some practical joker himself, and honors until this last stunt have been apparently about even, but the genial young man seems to have effectually turned the tables on the Y. B. and their friends are now making merry at their expense.

Wednesday night after his day's toil was finished, the genial young man, who, by the way, is married and has a family of young hopefuls coming on who are full of their father's love of a joke, had wended his way homeward and was taking his hard-earned rest before the evening fire, there came a ring at the phone, and he calmly informed his better half that his presence was requested elsewhere on business.

Close by the sidewalk on a dark street awaited the band of conspirators with an auto close at hand. A short, sharp struggle and the captive was helpless, and the auto whizzed them quickly to the scene of incarceration. And that's all of chapter 1.

The second act in this great melodrama is played with the lights turned low and the music softly playing, while the genial young man, no longer genial, but with aching jaws and wrists, tells his helpmeet the story of his terrible struggle to loosen his bonds and get the gag from his mouth, then of a tiresome tramp through mud and darkness, over miles of rough road to regain the shelter of the family domicile. Then there was a hurried call to a locksmith to remove the handcuffs that fettered him, while plans for getting even were quickly made.

Act 3 opens with a scene of wild alarm; a frantic woman is calling up the homes of the aforesaid Y. B.'s and demanding that the head of the family shall be sought far and near. The night is dark and cold, the hour midnight, but there must be no delay, nor waiting for daylight to aid in the search, and so a number of tired, disgusted and alarmed young men begin the hopeless task of hunting for a lost genial young man who is all the time curled snugly up in bed and wondering where his tormentors are now. Oh, those long, weary hours between midnight and the time when daylight first appears, and how many, many miles can be covered by a Y. B. when he gets thoroughly frightened, and what a revulsion of feeling comes when he first discovers that his joke is a flat failure and that he, himself, has been made the victim of a hoax.

But judge them not too harshly, you old people whose eyes are getting dim and whose hair is turning gray. You, too, were young and have held the sack when you went snipe shooting. The ways of youth have not changed; you have just forgotten, that's all.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Begins Next Monday, November 18—Program Will Be Announced Later.

There will be a series of four union meetings in various churches in this city, Monday and Tuesday afternoons at 2:30 o'clock and Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Monday afternoon's meeting will be at the Baptist church, Tuesday afternoon at the M. E. church, South; Wednesday afternoon at the Christian church, and Wednesday evening at the Presbyterian church.

The ministers of the churches will have charge of the meetings, two serving each day, and there will be special music each day.

On Wednesday evening Miss Greeta Leigh of Delaware, O., will deliver an address.

All the Protestant churches of the country will observe this week of prayer and consider the subject of home missions.

The meeting is to be in a nature of a home coming for the members and friends of the church. A basket dinner is to be served at noon in the basement of the church. Rev C. J. Miller, pastor of the Christian church of Maryville, is to give the main address in the afternoon of that day, and his sister, Mrs. Flutz of Michigan is to give several special songs.

Mr. and Mrs. Alloway of Arkoe announce the birth of a daughter Friday morning.

SCARE WON'T DOWN

FEAR OF JAPANESE AGGRESSION AGITATES MEXICO.

TRYING FOR NAVAL BASE

Scene of Action Transferred From Magdalena Bay to Manzanillo Harbor, Where Japan Has 500 Acres.

Mexico City, Nov. 15.—Foiled in its first attempt to procure a basis for naval operations on the eastern shore of the Pacific ocean by purchase of land for a coaling station on Magdalena Bay, Lower California, the Japanese government has been for more than two months busy with secret negotiations looking to the purchase of 500 acres of land on the shores of Manzanillo harbor, the most important part of Mexico's Pacific mainland coast.

Absolutely accurate, detailed information covering this entire deal has been given to the press by Ramon Garcia Alfaro, one of the superintendents of construction on the Manzanillo port works which were begun by the then President Diaz and have been under construction for six years.

They have been about half completed at a cost of $8,000,000 (Mexican currency) and have given to Manzanillo a protected harbor of 165 acres with an average depth of 50 feet at mean tide.

Within the past two months the Mexican congress has appropriated $6,000,000 (Mexican) to complete the work.

At the end of the three years it is estimated the harbor will have an area of 320 acres well protected and enclosed by two breakwaters.

Keepig Up the Milk Yield.

Now is the time to commence feeding the milk cows. It is true the grass is still green, but it has not much feeding value. A cattle feeder does not think for a moment of finishing off a bunch of steers on this fall grass. Why should a dairyman expect the cows to maintain their milk yield on it?

Butterfat is scarce. The price is high and is going higher. It will pay to produce more butterfat, but it cannot be done by feeding the cows fall grass, corn stalks and timothy hay. It is also a mistake to neglect the cows for a few weeks intending to make amends by liberal feeding when winter comes. It is important that the milk yield never be allowed to decline. It is almost impossible to bring a cow back to her normal flow after it has been permitted to decline.

It is important that fall feeding be commenced now before the milk flow is cut down by short grass and scant feed. Those who are fortunate enough to own a silo should give each cow about twenty-five pounds of silage a day. Every cow should have all the clover, alfalfa or cowpea hay she will clean up. This will amount to about ten pounds a day if the silage is fed. If silage is not fed more hay should be given. It is well to remember that cowpea hay is one of the cheapest of dairy feeds.

Cows giving over a gallon of milk a day should be fed grain. A good grain mixture is corn chop mixed with bran or cotton seed meal. Corn and cob meal may be substituted for the chop. A pound of this mixture should be given each day for every three pounds of milk produced.

The best of cows will not produce milk unless fed liberally on the right kind of feed.

On Visit to Colorado.

Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend left Thursday evening for Denver, Col., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bohm. Mrs. Bohm has not been in good health for awhile, and that is the occasion of Mrs. Townsend's visit at this time. Mrs. Townsend stopped in St. Joseph until Friday noon before resuming her journey, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hax Smith, and was their guest at the Orpheum Friday night, when Richard Carle appeared.

ALL ARE BUSY NOW

MUCH IMPROVEMENT GOING ON IN THE CITY.

FINE NEW STORE FRONTS

New Residences—An addition to the Christian Church and Other Notable Improvements.

Maryville seems to be a very busy place these days, and more improvement is going on at the present time than has been done here for many years. All of the working men in the city are busily at work and even more laborers are needed here.

Three new store fronts have been put in this fall and every one of them is a credit to a big city. The Corwin-Murrin Clothing company, the Zook building, where the Field-Lippman piano store is, and Kane's saloon building have all improved their places with new fronts and other improvements.

At the present time the Alderman Dry Goods company is also improving their store by making a new store front, and Paul Sisson, owner of the building on South Main street, is also putting in an entire new front in his building. Both of these will add greatly to the appearance and beauty of the city. Many other owners of buildings are also making plans for new store fronts, and when all of this work is finished Maryville will have the prettiest store fronts in Northwest Missouri, of any town of its size.

The work on the new government building is progressing nicely. J. R. Edwards, superintendent of the building, says he could use several more men. The roof is about all on and the windows will be put in soon, so the interior of the building can be finished during the winter.

Another improvement is the addition to the First Christian church. About $3,000 is to be spent on this work. Arthur Robey is also putting in a new front in his building.

A number of residences have also been built during the summer and fall. The George B. Baker home, on West Third street, is nearing completion.

In addition to all of this work there is the steam heating system being installed by the Electric Light company.

Among other improvements are the remodeling of the Petty building by the Christian Science church, the new building on West Fifth street by Mrs. Hill, and W. C. VanCleve is remodeling his place, on West Fourth street.

That Maryville is booming is evidenced by the fact that everyone is busy and that improvements are being made, new buildings going up, which means much to the city.

Horse-Breeding in Britain.

Two interesting experiments in British horse breeding are referred to in a government report. First, a real attempt is being made to revive the fine hardy local breeds of ponies in Scotland and Wales, or small Welsh cart horses, and of Devonshire pack horses. Mares have been purchased and the county councils will superintend a scheme of scientific breeding. The second experiment is the creation of a new thoroughbred capable of use as a hunter. The animal is being "created" under the most recently discovered Mendalian laws of heredity, with the help of funds generously offered by Captain Part.

How to Make a Man Happy.

Nagging becomes a habit, and the woman who wants to make her home happy will avoid it like the plague.

It never does the slightest good, because if a man is nagged at his faults only increase. He gets tired of being perpetually reminded of them, and of having his shortcomings dinned into his ears.

Women generally nag because they are tired—fagged out and "nervy," but this is no real excuse for it.

Try being sweet, and it will have a much better effect.

Repartee.

It is perfect, when it effects its purpose with a double edge. Repartee is the highest order of wit, as it bespeaks the coolest yet quickest exercise of genius, at a moment when the passions are roused.

Voltaire, on hearing the name of Haller mentioned to him by an English traveler at Ferney, burst forth into a violent panegyric upon him; his visitor told him that such praise was most disinterested, for that Haller by no means spoke so highly of him. "Well, well, n'importe," replied Voltaire, "perhaps we are both mistaken."

Mrs. Harry Harrison and Misses Eva and Fay Sprecher drove to Ravenwood Friday morning and were dinner guests of Mrs. David Crater.

W. R. C. Will Hold Market.

The ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps will give a market Saturday, opening in the morning at 9:30 o'clock, at Price & McNeal's furniture store.

Friday Evening Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mutz will entertain with a dinner Friday evening. Their company will include Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert S. Cox, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Christy, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wells, Miss Marie Wells, Miss Kathleen Wells, Miss Ethel Embree and Mr. Brint Embree.

In Honor of Mrs. Thorp.

The Royal Neighbors of America had a large crowd at their regular meeting Thursday afternoon. After the business hour the time was spent socially. A fried chicken lunch was served by Mrs. Roland Thomas, Mrs. Kittie Lucas, Mrs. W. R. Tilson and Mrs. Michael Lahr in honor of Mrs. J. H. Thorp, who will spend the winter in California.

Entertained for Miss Carey.

Mrs. John C. Ordnung and Misses Ida and Elizabeth Ordnung entertained with a house party Saturday and Sunday at their beautiful home in Burlington Junction in honor of their guest, Miss Ella Carey, from south of Maryville. Eighteen years ago the Ordnung family sold their farm and departed from the neighborhood in which both families had been close neighbors and warm friends, returning at different times and visiting at the Carey home, but this is the first visit Miss Carey has made the Ordnungs since living at Burlington Junction—Burlington Junction Post.

Shower for Mrs. Loffer.

A pleasant social event is in progress at Graham Friday afternoon. The friends of Mrs. James Loffer are giving a miscellaneous shower, preparatory to her trip to California, where she and her husband, Dr. James Loffer, will spend the winter. Dr. Loffer was the patient at St. Francis hospital who underwent the operation of skin grafting for serious burns he suffered in August in a boiler explosion, Mrs. Loffer making the necessary sacrifice. They will leave for California next week. Dr. Loffer had quite a sick spell from grip since he returned to Graham, and the stay in California the coming winter months is thought necessary for their recovery.

Meetings at Wilcox.

Rev. Marston Dewitt, pastor of the M. E. church, South, at Barnard and Wilcox, will begin a protracted meeting at Wilcox Monday evening, November 18, with the Rev. J. D. Randolph of Maryville assisting.

LARGE HICKORY NUTS.

To the Ladies of Maryville and Vicinity

The Richardson Ladies' Tailoring and Dressmaking School now has over twenty students enrolled, who are taking the fall and winter course, and new students are enrolling daily. This school is meeting with good success, and we have decided to take in students the remainder of this week and give them the extreme low price of $25.00 for both courses, including drafting, designing, reproducing and fitting. Also sewing, making, finishing, pressing and tailoring, with unlimited instructions in the drafting and pattern making departments, with thirty days in the sewing and finishing department, with a complete set of the well known Richardson Tailor System included with their lessons, all for one price, $25.00. Students can pay $10.00 down when they register and the balance of $15.00 in thirty days. You can bring your own materials and sew on your own clothing while taking this course:

The following named ladies are a few of the ones who have entered the school here:

Miss Maybird Carver.
Mrs. Clara Myers.
Miss Ola King.
Miss Juie Vincent.
Miss Agatha Kirch.
Miss Flora Ellsworth.
Miss Josie Hagan.
Mrs. M. J. Boatman.
Miss Gertrude Kirch.
Miss Ruth White.
Miss Cornelia Faubion.
Miss Ora King.
Mrs. Martha J. Cook.
Miss Elizabeth Doran.
Miss Theresa Goodwin.
Mrs. Nannie Spoor.
Miss Lula Collins.
Mrs. Edith Lugar.
Miss Lena Bosley.

Remember, this low rate is for students that will enroll this week only, which only takes in four more days from today. This school will remain here all the winter, and all next year, and longer if we can get students enough to justify us to remain. This is your school, and I want you to help me to make it a success here in your city.

Students can make their own garments while learning, or sew for others.

Robbed Wichita Jeweler.

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 15.—A policeman saw a flashlight in a jewelry store at 2 a. m. and called to know what the man with the light was doing. The man left the room by a rear window, from which he had broken a pane. The officer gave chase, shooting several times. Later it was found that $1,000 worth of jewelry had been stolen.

Lake Boats in a Gale.

Detroit, Nov. 15.—Reports have just reached here that the passenger steamer City of Mackinac, plying between Detroit and Mackinac, narrowly escaped destruction in the violent wind and blinding snow storm that swept Lake Huron all afternoon and night. Owing to the late season there were only six passengers aboard the steamer.

Catholic Students Meet.

Ames, Ia., Nov. 15.—Catholic students from all parts of the United States are attending the 1912 convention of the American Association of Catholic Students, which opened here. Two hundred delegates, representing schools from the University of Columbia, west to the University of Denver, were present.

Testimony Favors McCanles.

Lincoln Center, Kan., Nov. 15.—The jury to hear the case in which W. W. McCanles is accused of improper relations with an orphan girl was completed and the taking of testimony began. The girl's story was distinctly favorable to McCanles. McCanles prosecuted men who took part in the tarring of a young woman at Shady Bend last summer.

Larz Anderson to Tokio.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Larz Anderson of Washington, now minister to Belgium, has been named ambassador to Japan to succeed Charles Page Bryan, whose resignation was announced a few days ago.

GOOD NEWS.

Many Maryville Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Maryville are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

J. E. Bratcher, 1302 East Second street, Maryville, Mo., says: "It gives me pleasure to verify the testimonial I gave for Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago. I had kidney complaint and Doan's Kidney Pills relieved it. Others in the family have used this remedy for backache and kidney trouble and it has always done good work. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Love & Gaugh's drug store and can say that they are a fine kidney medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.—Advertisement.

PLEASURE BOATS WENT OVER DAM

Two Gasoline Launches Met Disaster at La Grange, Ill.—Bodies of Occupants Lost.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 15.—Two gasoline launches bound from Chicago to St. Louis, plunged over the United States government dam at La Grange, Ill. None of the bodies of the occupants of either boat has been recovered.

The lock tenders heard cries for help and found the launch A. B. Moore hanging upside down from the top of the dam.

The other launch "Five Dollar Bill" was found in good condition a mile below the dam. Searchers were unable to recover the boat hanging over the dam, and the engines were removed together with hunting paraphernalia and two suitcases. Nothing was found to indicate the names of any of the victims.

WOMAN SAVED A PROSECUTOR

Courtroom Tragedy Prevented by Prompt Action of Convicted Man's Wife.

Marietta, Ok., Nov. 15.—"I'll serve another sentence at the same time," said Benn Hall, when the clerk read the jury's verdict pronouncing him guilty of killing J. A. Parks. At the same time he drew a pistol and endeavored to aim it at Senator Clint Graham, who had prosecuted him. Hall's wife saw the move of her husband for his weapon and seized his arm before he could fire. With the assistance of District Judge Russell and Sheriff Cochran the convicted man was disarmed.

DOCTORS HURT IN MOTOR SPILL

Car Struck Soft Road, Breaking Axle and Injuring Four State Hospital Attaches.

Fulton, Mo., Nov. 15.—Four attaches of the Fulton state hospital, including two staff physicians, were injured when the motor car in which they were riding struck a soft spot in a road and tilted sufficiently to throw out the occupants of the car. The men were returning from a hunt. The front wheel was wrenched off at the axle and prevented the car from turning over and the men from more serious injuries.

The injured are: Dr. H. G. DaFrs, Dr. C. E. Singleton, Walter Pyles, assistant, and Roy C. Taylor, storekeeper.

RIVER PASSENGER BOAT SANK

Eleven Dead and Three Others Found Half Frozen on Canadian Island.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 15.—Eleven persons probably perished when the steamboat Mayflower sank in the Madawaska river. A dispatch from Barry's Bay, three miles from the scene of the disaster, said that there was little hope that any more of those aboard the Mayflower, when it went down would be found alive.

Three survivors are so weak that they can tell little about the wreck. They were found half frozen on an island three miles below where the boat sank. A searching party has found only two bodies. A snow storm raged all night.

TEAMSTERS WANT MORE MONEY

Strike of 3,000 in Chicago, Over $1 Increase, Threatens to Involve 30,000.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Possibility of a general strike of the 30,000 teamsters, chauffeurs and helpers composing the local teamsters' union developed when 3,000 members of local union No. 705 went on strike because of a wage disagreement. The strikers were employed by ten contracting teaming concerns.

The question at dispute was the acceptance of a $1 a week increase for single teams and $1.50 a week for double teams set by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, effective November 1.

Miners Fired on Train.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 15.—Striking miners in the Cabin creek district and officers aboard a passenger train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad exchanged many shots. Officials of the road came to Charleston as soon as possible to take up the matter with Gov. Glasscock. It is probable the militia may be called out before daylight.

A $25,000 Express Robbery.

Lake Charles, La., Nov. 15.—The Wells-Fargo Express company's office here was robbed of a package of currency that is said to have contained $25,000. J. E. Chavis, night express clerk, who reported the robbery has been arrested.

Football Injury Fatal.

Burlington, N. J., Nov. 15.—Amos Pestridge, 10 years old, died from injuries received in a football scrimmage. He was kicked in the nose and a blood vessel was ruptured. For four days physicians tried vainly to stop the hemorrhage.

Got Tired of Prison.

Lansing, Kan., Nov. 15.—Tom Wind, a fullblooded Indian, escaped from the farm at the Kansas state penitentiary and has not been located. Wind was serving a sentence of 20 years for murder committed in Butler county. He had three years yet to serve.

Lynched by Mob.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 15.—Preech Neils, a negro arrested on a charge of double murder at McIntosh, Fla., was lynched by a mob at Ocala. More than 200 men surrounded the jail early in afternoon, but officers were unprepared for an attack.

USING DOGS AGAINST HUNTERS

RAILROADS PROPOSE TO STOP QUAIL SMUGGLING.

Animals Will Go Through Trains and Point Out Boxes and Suitcases Containing Birds.

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 15.—Bird dogs have been leased for the quail season by the Santa Fe, Rock Island and Frisco railroads to be used in Kansas and Oklahoma in detecting quail smugglers.

Shipping quail from one state to another is prohibited by law. Sportsmen forget this law and after a season's shooting either in western Kansas or in Oklahoma bring back suitcases and boxes filled with birds.

As a rule trainmen are unable to detect a suitcase filled with quail. Dogs are sent through the coaches at frequent intervals in the quail season and permitted to sniff baggage. If there is a dead quail thereabouts the dog detective points. The owner must show what his suitcase contains.

Sometimes the dogs get anxious and get a point on a cold fried chicken, but no harm is done. They never let any contraband quail get by. That's why these railroad companies pay out several hundred dollars each year in dog detective bills.

HOUSE OF COMMONS ADJOURNED

Further Sessions Postponed Till Monday, Following Riot—Apology to Churchill.

London, Nov. 15.—The house of commons adjourned in the afternoon until Monday, acting on a suggestion believed to have emanated from King George.

The proposal was made by Speaker Lowther, who intimated it would be advisable "for the house to take further time to consider the points at issue" between the two factions in regard to the home rule measure.

A graceful apology from Ronald McNeill, the Unionist member who hurled the book at Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, during the night's disturbance, helped to cool the atmosphere during the day. Churchill accepted the apology with equal heartiness.

STRIKE PICKETS WERE ROUTED

Workers in Rubber Mill at Watertown, Mass., Threaten to Extend Trouble to Cambridge.

Watertown, Mass., Nov. 15.—Picket lines of the Industrial Workers of the World strikers near the mill of the Hood Rubber company, in East Watertown, were broken up by the police. Carlo Treson, a national organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, who has taken charge of the strike, reformed the picket lines. He intimated there was a possibility of extending the strike to a rubber mill in Cambridge.

Nearly 4,000 persons are employed in the rubber mill here. About 1,500 Industrial Workers of the World struck, alleging members of their organization had been discriminated against by the company officials.

MADAM! IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT TAKE DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

All women get bilious, headachy and constipated—simply because they don't exercise enough. They don't eat coarse food, or enough fruit and green vegetables. Those are nature's ways of keeping the liver and thirty feet of bowels active; but very few women employ them. The next best way is delightful, fruity Syrup of Figs.

Nearly all ills of women can be overcome with Syrup of Figs alone. There is no need to have sick headache, backache, dizziness, stomach sour and full of gases, bilious spells, sallowness, coated tongue, bad breath, bad complexion, nervousness and depression. The surest and safest remedy is one or two teaspoonfuls of delicious Syrup of Figs. Try this tonight—you'll feel splendid in the morning when the sour bile, clogged up waste and poisonous matter have been gently but thoroughly moved on and out of your system, without nausea, griping or weakness. Your head will be clear, complexion rosy, breath sweet, stomach regulated; no more constipation, gases, pains and aches.

It is simply a matter of keeping your stomach, liver and bowels clean and regular. Then you will always be well—always look and feel your best.

But get the genuine—the old reliable. Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with contempt, the so-called Fig Syrups sometimes substituted to fool you. The true, genuine, bears the name California Fig Syrup Company; look for this on the label.—Advertisement.

FIRST APPLICATION DARKENS THE HAIR

A Simple Remedy Gives Color, Strength and Beauty to the Hair.

You don't have to have gray hair or faded hair if you don't want to. Why look old or unattractive? If your hair is gray or faded, you can change it easily, quickly and effectively by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. Apply a little tonight, and in the morning you will be agreeably surprised at the results from a single application. The gray hairs will be less conspicuous, and after a few more applications will be restored to natural color.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur also quickly removes dandruff, leaves the scalp clean and healthy, and promotes the growth of the hair. It is a clean wholesome dressing which may be used at any time with perfect safety.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and see how quickly it will restore the youthful color and beauty of your hair and forever end the nasty dandruff, hot, itchy scalp and falling hair. All druggists sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if you are not satisfied after fair trial.

VARIOUS SAUCES FOR FISH

Different Mixtures Are Required for the Different Species That May Be Served.

A hostess home from Spain brought with her a fish sauce which is popular with the Spaniards. Its foundation is a thick French dressing made of one tablespoon of vinegar to eight of oil. It is seasoned with a half teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of mustard and paprika enough to color.

Into this dressing is mixed the finely chopped whites and yolks—each separately—of three hard-boiled eggs, a dozen chopped olives and half a dozen chopped sweet red peppers.

Mayonnaise served in a small silver or china sauce boat is often passed with fried smelts, halibut, scallops and eels. This may have half dozen sweet pickles chopped in it or a tablespoonful of capers.

Some hostesses serve extra drawn butter in a separate sauce boat, with broiled mackerel or bluefish. This should be highly seasoned with pepper and may be colored with paprika, or should be nicely browned.

A nice sauce for shell fish is made by using the broth that comes from steaming, or a little of the clam broth that is jarred. Fry six small onions in butter, but do not color a deep brown, thicken with a tablespoonful of flour; then reduce to a creamy gray, with the broth. Season well with cayenne and a little salt. Just before serving stir in the yolk of an egg, a sherry glass of white wine, the same amount of cream and some chopped chives or capers.

TO BRAISE A GUINEA HEN

Excellent Dish May Be Made From Fowl If Necessary Time and Care Is Given.

A young, tender guinea fowl is not to be despised. When well selected and cooked, it is not very unlike a partridge. A young fowl can be told by pressing the breast bone at the tip; if it is pliant, the wings very tender, the legs smooth, free from feathers and a pale yellow color, buy it. A young fowl will require about one hour and fifteen minutes for braising—older ones double the time. Dress and truss as chicken. Melt a tablespoonful of butter in the pan; when hot, lay in the guinea and turn on all sides until lightly browned; add a sliced carrot, small onion, bits of celery, a cup of tomato juice or stock; cover closely and cook very slowly and gently until tender. Salt lightly after it has cooked an hour. A casserole is better than a covered roaster for braising. Serve on a platter, garnished with watercress, the gravy in a sauce boat.— National Food Magazine.

Steamed Rice and Salmon.

A way to use salmon a little different from the usual recipe is as follows: Line a bread pan, slightly buttered, with warm steamed rice. Fill the center with cold boiled salmon, flaked and seasoned with salt, pepper and a slight grating of nutmeg. Cover with rice and steam one hour. Run on a hot platter for serving and pour around egg sauce, one-third cup butter, three tablespoons flour, one and one-half cups hot water, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, beaten yolks of three eggs and one teaspoon lemon juice. Melt half butter, add flour with seasonings and pour on gradually hot water. Boil five minutes and add remaining butter in small pieces.

Uses for Parsley.

You can flavor a lot of things with parsley. Cut it up fine and put in soup. It makes a different kind of soup altogether, and I am sure you will be pleased with the result. If you would like a few Swedish dishes in which parsley is used I would like to send them to you. I would like to send you my way of putting up parsley for the winter if you have it in the garden. Don't you ever put parsley in your gravies and stuffing for fowls? I use parsley at nearly every meal, both for cooking and garnishing. Wish you would try some of my Swedish dishes. They are plain but very good.

Eggplant Fritters.

Sift thoroughly one cup of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper. Add enough milk to make a stiff batter and one egg well beaten. Then stir into it the mashed egg-plant pulp. Drop this, a spoonful at a time, in hot fat and fry a golden brown. Use olive oil or cotton seed oil in preference to lard in frying, as it is more palatable and healthful.

Oxford Salad.

Small leaves of lettuce, three to each guest. On each a slice of orange, cut not too thin. On each slice of orange place a strip of canned red sweet pepper. Over all pour a dressing made of the juice from the ends of of oranges, a little of pepper liquor and plenty of salt. Very pretty and so good.

Pumpkin Fritters.

One pint of pumpkin boiled and sifted, one pint of milk, two eggs, one half teaspoon salt, pinch of ginger, one teaspoon molasses, flour to make a batter stiff enough to drop on griddle as for buckwheat.

Tea Cake.

Half cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, one-half teaspoon salt, one egg, one cup sweet milk, two teaspoons baking powder and two and one-half cups of flour. Bake in moderate oven about 30 minutes.

SHOULD SHOW BRIGHT SIDE

Mr. Balfour's Idea of Literature Will Be Indorsed by Many of His Readers.

Mr. Balfour, in proposing the toast of "Literature" at the anniversary dinner of the Royal Literary fund at the Whitehall rooms recently, said:

"I think that literature is less cheerful now than it was when I was young. It may be because I am growing old that I take this gloomier view of literary effort, but still I personally like the spring day and bright sun and the birds singing, and if there be a shower or a storm, that it should be simply a passing episode in the landscape, to be followed immediately by a return to brilliant sunshine. While that is what I prefer I of course admit that the great, the picturesque, the striking storm is a magnificent subject for artistic treatment and is well worthy of the efforts of a great artist.

"I am not quite so sure, however, about the dreary day in which nothing is seen, in which the landscape does not change, in which there is a steady but not violent downpour of rain. I do not say that that ought not to be treated as a subject of literature, but it is not what I ask of literature.

"What I ask from literature mainly is that in a world that is full of sadness and full of difficulty, in which you come through the day wearied, in which you come back from your work wearied, you should find in literature something which represents life which is true in the higher sense of truth or what is imagined to be true, but which does cheer us. Therefore when I ask you to drink the toast of literature I shall myself sotto voce say 'not literature merely, but that literature in particular which served the great cause of cheering us up.'"—London Daily Mail.

MANY HOUSES OLD MAIDISH

Ida Tarbell Coins a Phrase That Seems to Pretty Well Express the Idea Conveyed.

One of the most repellent houses in which I have ever visited was one in which there was from garret to cellar, so far as I discovered, not one article which was not of the period imitated, not one streak of color which was not "right," Ida M. Tarbell writes in the American magazine. It was a masterpiece of correct furnishing, but it was curiously limiting and stifling. You could not escape the scheme. The inelasticity of it hampered sociability—and there grew on one, too, a sense of unfitness. Its clothes were an anachronism! They were the only thing which did not belong.

There is an old fashioned adjective which describes better than any other this preoccupation with things, which so often prevents a woman's coming to an understanding of the heart of her business. It is old maidish. It has often been the pathetic fate of single women to live alone. To minister to themselves becomes their occupation. The force of their natures turns to their belongings. If in straitened circumstances they gave their souls to spotless floors, if rich to flawless mahogany and china, to perfect household machinery. Wherever you find in women this perversion—old maidish is perhaps the most accurate word for her—it is a sacrifice of the human to the material. A house without sweet human litter, without the trace of friends who have no sense of beauty, but who love to give, without the scars of use and the dust of running feet—what is it but a meatless shell?

NECK RUCHE HERE TO STAY

Despite Its Being Discarded by Parisians American Women Regard It With Favor.

As most of us have already noticed, the tulle neck ruche is coming along in great shape and rapidly becoming a fashion. That is, on this side of the ocean. I made a note to this effect not long ago. Some one who read the item asked me if I didn't know that the Parisians were laughing at us about this little matter of the ruche. I said no, why were they laughing about it and he said because they'd fooled us. They gave out that neck ruches were to be in order, everybody doing it, that sort of thing, don't you know and we "bit!" Whereas no one who really knows anything about such matters would ever be guilty of wearing a ruche. Think of it! The atrocity! The blunder! "The social error!" To wear a ruche when a Parisian wouldn't! Isn't it awful? I said I thought the joke was not on us but on Paris. We'll wear our ruffles if we want to. There are moments when I think that Paris might well go 'way back and sit down.—Exchange.

CONSERVE THE MANURE

IT RAPIDLY LOSES ITS VALUE IF NOT PROPERLY CARED FOR.

By M. F. Miller, Professor of Agronomy, College of Agriculture, University of Missouri.

Of the different ways of handling manure no other is so saving of fertility as that of hauling and scattering the manure as it is made. This gives the least possible chance for loss, either through leaching or fermentation. It is true that there are millions of dollars' worth of manure wasted annually in Missouri through improper handling. It is a common and a wasteful practice to pile the manure out of doors and haul it onto the fields two or three times a year. Experiments have been made which show that manure exposed to the weather for 100 days may lose half of its fertility.

There are at least two good ways of handling the manure. That of hauling to the field directly is one of the best. When the ground is too soft to haul onto the field, the manure is stored under roof.

Another practical method is to allow the manure to accumulate under an open shed where stock is running. As the manure gathers it is packed down by the stock running over it and kept moist by the liquid manure. In this condition there is very little loss. This method is easily followed when there is an open shed close to the horse or cow stable.

Some men allow their manure to rot before applying it to the land. This is a common practice with gardeners. When treated in this manner, manure acts more quickly, because it is well advanced in decomposition. However, for the farmer this method cannot be recommended. The manure has lost about one-half its organic matter and some of its phosphorus and potassium. It should be allowed to rot in the soil so as to save practically all of its fertilizing material.

The liquid manure, which is so often wasted in the stable, is a valuable fertilizer and should be gathered in the bedding and handled with the solid manure.

The two common sources of loss are by leaching and by fermentation. The first is prevented by keeping the manure under shed. The second is prevented by keeping th manure moist or by keeping it compact so the air is excluded. When a pile of manure "smokes" it is losing fertility and should be scattered or moistened by pouring water over it.

As soon as the farmers know how much their lands need the manure and know the conditions which prevent the manure from losing its fertility, it will be handled as carefully as a crop of corn or other grain.

IF ONE WOULD DRESS WELL

Poiret, the Famous Parisian Dressmaker, Lays Down Ten Commandments.

To the woman who would be well dressed, Paul Poiret writes "The Ten Commandments in the autumn fashion number of Harper's Bazar for October as follows:

1. Choose whatever is most becoming to your beauty—tightly fitting garments or loose-flowing ones, the strictly tailor-made, or the more elaborate.

2. Choose the colors which go well with your complexion, your hair, your eyes.

3. Observe the decorum and wear appropriate dresses in appropriate places. It is because of her ability to understand the eternal fitness of things that the Parisienne is so often the queen of large social functions!

4. This year, for instance, I am bringing out more dresses built on straight lines.

5. If fringes such as I border gowns with do not fit in with your personality, dare to wear any other kind of trimming that does!

6. I am keeping the light chiffon over-skirt which harmonizes or contrasts with the silk foundation. But if that is not suitable to you, dare to wear heavy brocades and satins.

7. Personally I like strong colors, colors of life and poetry, but if pastel shades are becoming, wear them, no matter what is the fashion!

8. If the high waist line such as I still advocate does not reveal the good points of your figure, do not adopt it!

9. Have the waist line wherever it is becoming to you!

10. I like the tight skirt and am making it this year. But if you look better in a wide one, do not sacrifice your beauty in a vain attempt at being fashionable!

VOLUME 3. MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, FRIDAY, NOV. 15, 1912. NO. 142.

IN CIRCUIT COURT

DEFENDANT WINS CASE

Glen Barton, Who Assaulted Marshal, Pleaded Guilty and was Fined $200.

The case of James A. Glover vs. D. T. Garrett, which will be one of the sensational and important cases to come to trial at this term, will probably come up late this afternoon in circuit court, the first thing Saturday morning. Both of the parties are from Burlington Junction, and over 125 Junction people came to Maryville today as witnesses in the case.

The suit is for $25,000 damages for the alienation of Glover's wife's affections. According to the petition the acts complained of are charged to have been committed October 15, 1911, and a time prior to that. The case will be hotly contested, and the attorneys for the plaintiff are Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison of this city and Jesse F. Robertson of Burlington Junction, and Wright & Ford and Cook, Cummins & Dawson for the defendant.

Mr. Garrett, the defendant in the case, was formerly in the hardware business in Maryville and was president of the Northwestern bank at Burlington Junction, selling out about a year ago.

The jury in the case of E. H. Caudle vs. L. Whitten and A. L. Kivett, an appeal from J. P. court, was tried before a jury of six this morning and a verdict was given for the plaintiff, finding for him for $93.60 and attorney's fees of $25.

This afternoon the suit of Lewis Hammond vs. A. C. Ford was on trial before a jury of six. This case is an appeal from J. P. court, and is for damages to a wheat drill that is charged defendant failed to return in good condition.

The case of Charles D. Skidmore vs. Fred Breit was on trial Thursday in circuit court and the jury, after hearing the case, gave a decision finding for the defendant. The suit grows out of an assignment of a $1,000 life insurance policy by Mrs. Skidmore a few days before she died. The assignment was made to Fred Breit, father of Mrs. Skidmore, and the plaintiff charged in his petition that the assignment was made as the result of fraudulent representations.

Glen Barton, the young man who assaulted Marshal G. A. Jones of Sheridan at a church dinner at Gaynor City last summer, pleaded guilty and was fined $200. He was paroled, however, for good cause shown, and upon payment of $10 of the fine and costs.

Jack Beggs, charged with selling intoxicating liquor, pleaded guilty to three charges, but his punishment was not assessed by the court.

Wm. Lindsay, charged with disturbing the peace, was given six months in the county jail.

Sheriff Tilson reported that he had added the names of James Patterson, L. E. White, Willis Wamsley, Mack Moore and R. R. Smith to the regular petit jury.

WAS NINETY-SIX YEARS OLD.

Mrs. Katherine Hart of Clyde, Who Died Early Thursday Morning, Lived in County 36 Years.

Mrs. Katherine Hart, a native of Ireland, where she was born ninety-six years ago, died at her home, one mile west of New Engleberg Abbey church, early Thursday morning, after a long illness. One week ago Sunday she fell down stairs and broke one of her shoulder blades. A light attack of pneumonia set in with the injury, and that is what hastened her death.

The funeral services will be held Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at New Engleberg Abbey church by the Rev. Fr. Placidus. Burial in St. Columbia cemetery.

Mrs. Hart and her husband settled on the place on which she died thirty-six years ago. Her husband had the contract for grading on the Wabash railroad when it was being built, having charge of the grading from Stanberry through Jefferson township to Long Branch. Both he and his wife were so favorable impressed with the country that they did not go further, and bought land and settled with their family. They had been in camp on the place where Clyde now is, while he was superintending the work of grading. Their sons followed the work their father did for a number of years, but retired to the farm to assist their mother in managing the farm. Their father's death occurred soon after they came to the Clyde country.

The children surviving are James at home; Miss Ellen Hart of Phillips, S. D., who was summoned home by her mother's illness; Mrs. Johanna Corcoran of St. Joseph and Mrs. Jennie Loftus of St. Joseph. Daniel Hart, another son, died about fifteen years ago.

Mrs. Hart is well remembered by the older residents of Maryville. She was a good business woman, cheery and pleasant to meet, and had many friends wherever she was known.

Returned to North Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roney of Oaks, N. D., who have been visiting in Maryville with Mr. Roney's sisters, Mrs. J. Ed Costello and Mrs. F. M. Ryan, and P. F. Roney, left for their home Friday. Last Sunday J. Ed Costello, P. F. Roney and Charles Roney made a trip to Fairbury, Neb., in Mr. Costello's car and visited James Roney and family.

MAKING NEW TREATY

NEGOTIATIONS WITH RUSSIA ALMOST COMPLETE.

DETAILS NOT WORKED OUT

Rupture of Commercial Relations Resulting From Treatment of Jewish Situation May Be Averted.

Washington, Nov. 15.—An agreement between the United States and Russia to take the place of the commercial treaty of 1832, the abrogation of which will become effective January 1, virtually has been reached, according to information from high official authority.

This advanced stage in the negotiations has been attained only after a number of conversations between Secretary of State Knox and the Russian ambassador, M. Bakhmeteff, beginning last summer and continued at frequent intervals, the last having just been concluded.

That course was adopted rather than the usual method of exchange of formal notes, as better calculated to obtain a speedy disclosure of the existing conditions in the United States and Russia likely to affect the two governments in their efforts to prevent a complete rupture of their vast commercial relations.

Details Not Worked Out.

Only in a general way can it be said that an understanding exists that such a breach shall not take place, for the details of the arrangement remain to be worked out.

Owing to the extreme delicacy of the subject and the possibility of the complete failure from the proposed agreement in event there should be public discussion and criticism, neither party to the negotiations is willing to throw any light upon the details of the arrangement. From such side light as is obtainable, however, it appears that Russia has not consented to modify its practice of refusing passports to Americans or other non-Russian Jews.

The czar's government always has held that Jews, even though they are American citizens, are not entitled to travel or reside in Russia, because the existing treaty provides that any American seeking to enter Russia shall submit to the laws and ordinances there prevailing.

Maximum Tariff May Not Apply.

The state department never has admitted the soundness of that contention and when congress, by resolution, ordered the denunciation of the treaty—the actual, though not the formal ground being this alleged discrimination against American citizens—the department's decision necessarily became unalterable.

It is said that in all probability Russia will meet the issue by refraining from applying its maximum (and practically exclusive) tariff duties to imports from America. In the ordinary course, after the lapse of the existing treaty December 31, these maximum rates would apply automatically to imports from a country with which Russia has no such trade treaty.

TOOK CARBOLIC ACID THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

WIFE WAS NOT AT HOME

When Daughter Returned From Work She Found Father Lying on Bed, and a Note Told Sad Story.

Our citizens were shocked Thursday evening about 6 o'clock by the news that rapidly circulated around town that W. W. Byers, a well known resident of this city, had committed suicide by taking carbolic acid at his home, at 816 South Buchanan street.

Mrs. Byers was spending the day with her daughter, Mrs. C. T. Barrows, who lives west of Maryville, and had not returned home at 5:30 in the evening, when Mr. Byers' body was found by his daughter, Miss Marie Byers, who came home at that time from her work in Mrs. McCrary's millinery store. When Miss Byers went home and went into the house she called to her father, and receiving no answer, went upstairs, expecting to find him in the sitting room. He was not there, however, and she returned and went to his bedroom downstairs. She saw him lying on the bed and laughingly called:

"Papa, what made you go to bed at this time of day?" As he did not answer, she went to the bedside and put her hand on his face to awaken him. She was startled by the coldness, and on looking closer found that he was dead. Her screams soon brought the neighbors in, and a bottle of carbolic acid found soon told the tale.

Mr. Byers had been much distressed for several days over rumors that had gained currency in regard to certain indignities which it was charged he had offered Mrs. E. L. Holt, a niece of his wife. He had made a number of efforts to quiet these rumors, and in the note left by the dead man this was given as the cause for the suicide.

Mr. Byers was in good financial standing and there was nothing of that nature to worry him.

The members of his family were notified and were soon at home. His sister, Mrs. Belle Oliver of Shenandoah, Ia., and her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Andrews of the same place, arrived on the late Wabash train Thursday evening, and his son, Roy Byers of Savannah, came Friday noon.

Mr. Byers is survived by his wife and four children, who are Roy Byers, a farmer near Savannah; Mrs. C. T. Barrow, west of Maryville; Mrs. Edward M. Walker, north of Maryville, and Miss Marie Byers, at home.

William Walton Byers was born in Nodaway county, Mo., March 15, 1846, and has lived in this county all of his life. On March 12, 1871, he married Miss Sophina Rea, a sister of Judge David Rea of Rea, Mo. Eight children were born to them, three dying in infancy and a daughter, Mrs. Newton Hershberger, died April 21, 1897.

Mr. Byers was a successful farmer, and nine years ago he and his family moved here from Bolckow, where they had resided for some time.

The funeral services will be held at the home at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The body will live in state for the view of friends from 9 to 11 a. m.

DALBY HOTEL SOLD.

Furnishings Went Under the Hammer Thursday at Burlington Junction, Bringing $1,200.

The Dalby hotel at Burlington Junction, of which Mrs. A. H. Dalby had been proprietress for nineteen years, lacking one day, was sold at auction Thursday by Col. R. P. Hosmer of Maryville. The sale included the furnishings, as the hotel building did not belong to Mrs. Dalby. The price was $1,200. R. M. Spangler of Centralia, Kan., was the purchaser, and he will take possession the first of December. Mrs. Dalby has not decided on future plans, but will remain in Burlington Junction until spring.

Married at Barnard.

At the home of the bride, on Thursday evening, occurred the marriage of Mrs. Ida Lewis to H. S. Rector, both of Barnard. After Rev. Royston had securely tied the nuptial knot all were invited to a sumptuous feast. After a few hours of social enjoyment all returned home wishing them a long and happy life. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Tulloch, Ruth Merrel, Mrs. Ira French, Mrs. Hattie Merrel, Helen Merrel, Viola French, Lester French, Teddy French, Walton Lewis, Helen Lewis, Catharine Lewis, Maxwell Lewis.

The funeral services will be held Saturday morning at New Engelberg Abbey church. Burial in St. Columbia cemetery.

The young man is survived by his mother, four brothers and two sisters, who are Joseph, Daniel and George, at home; Rev. Father John Jermain, the parish priest at Milan, Mo.; Anna, a sister in a convent at Cottonwood Falls, Idaho, and Miss Rosa Jermain, who is housekeeper for her brother, the Rev. Father Jermain of Milan.

WOMEN CELEBRATE

BURNED THEIR HEADGEAR

Bonnets Consigned to the Flames in Token of Their Emancipation—Missouri Agitation Begun.

Pittsburg, Kan., Nov. 15.—"The lid that held us down for years is off."

With this exclamation from Mrs. Elizabeth Callean, chairman of the Crawford County Suffrage association, 200 women hurled old bonnets into a bonfire that had been built at the public square here, and amid cheers and song marched around the fire in celebration of the Kansas decision to grant its women the right to vote.

The demonstration opened with a meeting in the courthouse, with Mrs. Callean presiding. After an address by her, in which she explained some of the privileges the men of Kansas will have since the state has granted suffrage to the other sex, the women marched from the building and a bonfire was lighter.

Everyone carried an old "bonnet." With a cue from the chairman, hats of every hue sailed through the air. Then, joining hands, the women marched around the blazing "lids" and proclaimed their victory.

"Lid is Off Now."

"We shall not take the reins of government from the men's hands," said Mrs. Callean, "but we shall take an interesting part in saying into whose hands those reins shall fall. Of course, we'll allow the men as much as a bottle of soda probably once a week and a cigar each day. The lid has been on in the past, but it is off now. Those bonnets burning there mean that the women of Kansas have come into their own, and while we will not affiliate with any party, the party that wins in future is the one that gets our support."

More than a thousand persons witnessed the demonstration. In the excitement incident to the bonnet burning two men threw their hats into the fire and joined the parade around it.

Want It In Missouri Next.

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 15.—The victory of Kansas women in their campaign for equal suffrage, followed by a "bonnet burning" at Pittsburg, Kan., which added enthusiasm to the movement, prompted a call for a meeting of Missouri women to organize the fifteenth congressional district suffragists' league already issued from here.

The suffrage meeting is to be held here Saturday and women from Jasper, Barton, McDonald, Newton, Barry, Lawrence and Vernon counties are to attend with a view to organizing in a movement to place Missouri in the suffrage column.

Mearl O. Cook went to Kansas City Thursday evening on a short business visit.

Ferdinand M. Townsend returned Friday noon from St. Joseph, where he accompanied Mrs. Townsend on her way to Denver, Col.

THE JOKE TURNED

BAND OF YOUNG CONSPIRATORS KIDNAPPED FRIEND.

Wouldn't you think it a great stunt to forcibly seize, bind gag and handcuff a young man, take him to a lonely, deserted house miles and miles out in the country in the dead of night, leaving him there helpless and alone? And wouldn't it surprise you to learn that such things were happening in peaceful, law abiding Maryville, with the officers of the law apparently asleep?

There is a young salesman here in town who, by his genial ways, has made many friends among the young "bloods" of the town, but his good humor has often been sorely taxed by the tricks played upon him by the said Y. B's. However, he is some practical joker himself, and honors until this last stunt have been apparently about even, but the genial young man seems to have effectually turned the tables on the Y. B. and their friends are now making merry at their expense.

Wednesday night after his day's toil was finished, the genial young man, who, by the way, is married and has a family of young hopefuls coming on who are full of their father's love of a joke, had wended his way homeward and was taking his hard-earned rest before the evening fire, there came a ring at the phone, and he calmly informed his better half that his presence was requested elsewhere on business.

Close by the sidewalk on a dark street awaited the band of conspirators with an auto close at hand. A short, sharp struggle and the captive was helpless, and the auto whizzed them quickly to the scene of incarceration. And that's all of chapter 1.

The second act in this great melodrama is played with the lights turned low and the music softly playing, while the genial young man, no longer genial, but with aching jaws and wrists, tells his helpmeet the story of his terrible struggle to loosen his bonds and get the gag from his mouth, then of a tiresome tramp through mud and darkness, over miles of rough road to regain the shelter of the family domicile. Then there was a hurried call to a locksmith to remove the handcuffs that fettered him, while plans for getting even were quickly made.

Act 3 opens with a scene of wild alarm; a frantic woman is calling up the homes of the aforesaid Y. B.'s and demanding that the head of the family shall be sought far and near. The night is dark and cold, the hour midnight, but there must be no delay, nor waiting for daylight to aid in the search, and so a number of tired, disgusted and alarmed young men begin the hopeless task of hunting for a lost genial young man who is all the time curled snugly up in bed and wondering where his tormentors are now. Oh, those long, weary hours between midnight and the time when daylight first appears, and how many, many miles can be covered by a Y. B. when he gets thoroughly frightened, and what a revulsion of feeling comes when he first discovers that his joke is a flat failure and that he, himself, has been made the victim of a hoax.

But judge them not too harshly, you old people whose eyes are getting dim and whose hair is turning gray. You, too, were young and have held the sack when you went snipe shooting. The ways of youth have not changed; you have just forgotten, that's all.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Begins Next Monday, November 18—Program Will Be Announced Later.

There will be a series of four union meetings in various churches in this city, Monday and Tuesday afternoons at 2:30 o'clock and Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Monday afternoon's meeting will be at the Baptist church, Tuesday afternoon at the M. E. church, South; Wednesday afternoon at the Christian church, and Wednesday evening at the Presbyterian church.

The ministers of the churches will have charge of the meetings, two serving each day, and there will be special music each day.

On Wednesday evening Miss Greeta Leigh of Delaware, O., will deliver an address.

All the Protestant churches of the country will observe this week of prayer and consider the subject of home missions.

The meeting is to be in a nature of a home coming for the members and friends of the church. A basket dinner is to be served at noon in the basement of the church. Rev C. J. Miller, pastor of the Christian church of Maryville, is to give the main address in the afternoon of that day, and his sister, Mrs. Flutz of Michigan is to give several special songs.

Mr. and Mrs. Alloway of Arkoe announce the birth of a daughter Friday morning.

SCARE WON'T DOWN

FEAR OF JAPANESE AGGRESSION AGITATES MEXICO.

TRYING FOR NAVAL BASE

Scene of Action Transferred From Magdulena Bay to Manzanillo Harbor, Where Japan Has 500 Acres.

Mexico City, Nov. 15.—Foiled in its first attempt to procure a basis for naval operations on the eastern shore of the Pacific ocean by purchase of land for a coaling station on Magdelena Bay, Lower California, the Japanese government has been for more than two months busy with secret negotiations looking to the purchase of 500 acres of land on the shores of Manzanillo harbor, the most important part of Mexico's Pacific mainland coast.

Absolutely accurate, detailed information covering this entire deal has been given to the press by Ramon Garcia Alfaro, one of the superintendents of construction on the Manzanillo port works which were begun by the then President Diaz and have been under construction for six years.

They have been about half completed at a cost of $8,000,000 (Mexican currency) and have given to Manzanillo a protected harbor of 165 acres with an average depth of 50 feet at mean tide.

Within the past two months the Mexican congress has appropriated $6,000,000 (Mexican) to complete the work.

At the end of the three years it is estimated the harbor will have an area of 320 acres well protected and enclosed by two breakwaters.

Keepig Up the Milk Yield.

Now is the time to commence feeding the milk cows. It is true the grass is still green, but it has not much feeding value. A cattle feeder does not think for a moment of finishing off a bunch of steers on this fall grass. Why should a dairyman expect the cows to maintain their milk yield on it?

Butterfat is scarce. The price is high and is going higher. It will pay to produce more butterfat, but it cannot be done by feeding the cows fall grass, corn stalks and timothy hay. It is also a mistake to neglect the cows for a few weeks intending to make amends by liberal feeding when winter comes. It is important that the milk yield never be allowed to decline. It is almost impossible to bring a cow back to her normal flow after it has been permitted to decline.

It is important that fall feeding be commenced now before the milk flow is cut down by short grass and scant feed. Those who are fortunate enough to own a silo should give each cow about twenty-five pounds of silage a day. Every cow should have all the clover, alfalfa or cowpea hay she will clean up. This will amount to about ten pounds a day if the silage is fed. If silage is not fed more hay should be given. It is well to remember that cowpea hay is one of the cheapest of dairy feeds.

Cows giving over a gallon of milk a day should be fed grain. A good grain mixture is corn chop mixed with bran or cotton seed meal. Corn and cob meal may be substituted for the chop. A pound of this mixture should be given each day for every three pounds of milk produced.

The best of cows will not produce milk unless fed liberally on the right kind of feed.

On Visit to Colorado.

Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend left Thursday evening for Denver, Col., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bohm. Mrs. Bohm has not been in good health for awhile, and that is the occasion of Mrs. Townsend's visit at this time. Mrs. Townsend stopped in St. Joseph until Friday noon before resuming her journey, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hax Smith, and was their guest at the Orpheum Friday night, when Richard Carle appeared.

ALL ARE BUSY NOW

MUCH IMPROVEMENT GOING ON IN THE CITY.

FINE NEW STORE FRONTS

New Residences—An addition to the Christian Church and Other Notable Improvements.

Maryville seems to be a very busy place these days, and more improvement is going on at the present time than has been done here for many years. All of the working men in the city are busily at work and even more laborers are needed here.

Three new store fronts have been put in this fall and every one of them is a credit to a big city. The Corwin-Murrin Clothing company, the Zook building, where the Field-Lippman piano store is, and Kane's saloon building have all improved their places with new fronts and other improvements.

At the present time the Alderman Dry Goods company is also improving their store by making a new store front, and Paul Sisson, owner of the building on South Main street, is also putting in an entire new front in his building. Both of these will add greatly to the appearance and beauty of the city. Many other owners of buildings are also making plans for new store fronts, and when all of this work is finished Maryville will have the prettiest store fronts in Northwest Missouri, of any town of its size.

The work on the new government building is progressing nicely. J. R. Edwards, superintendent of the building, says he could use several more men. The roof is about all on and the windows will be put in soon, so the interior of the building can be finished during the winter.

Another improvement is the addition to the First Christian church. About $3,000 is to be spent on this work. Arthur Robey is also putting in a new front in his building.

A number of residences have also been built during the summer and fall. The George B. Baker home, on West Third street, is nearing completion.

In addition to all of this work there is the steam heating system being installed by the Electric Light company.

Among other improvements are the remodeling of the Petty building by the Christian Science church, the new building on West Fifth street by Mrs. Hill, and W. C. VanCleve is remodeling his place, on West Fourth street.

That Maryville is booming is evidenced by the fact that everyone is busy and that improvements are being made, new buildings going up, which means much to the city.

Horse-Breeding in Britain.

Two interesting experiments in British horse breeding are referred to in a government report. First, a real attempt is being made to revive the fine hardy local breeds of ponies in Scotland and Wales, or small Welsh cart horses, and of Devonshire pack horses. Mares have been purchased and the county councils will superintend a scheme of scientific breeding. The second experiment is the creation of a new thoroughbred capable of use as a hunter. The animal is being "created" under the most recently discovered Mendalian laws of heredity, with the help of funds generously offered by Captain Part.

How to Make a Man Happy.

Nagging becomes a habit, and the woman who wants to make her home happy will avoid it like the plague.

It never does the slightest good, because if a man is nagged at his faults only increase. He gets tired of being perpetually reminded of them, and of having his shortcomings dinned into his ears.

Women generally nag because they are tired—fagged out and "nervy," but this is no real excuse for it.

Try being sweet, and it will have a much better effect.

Repartee.

It is perfect, when it effects its purpose with a double edge. Repartee is the highest order of wit, as it bespeaks the coolest yet quickest exercise of genius, at a moment when the passions are roused.

Voltaire, on hearing the name of Haller mentioned to him by an English traveler at Ferney, burst forth into a violent panegyric upon him; his visitor told him that such praise was most disinterested, for that Haller by no means spoke so highly of him. "Well, well, n'importe," replied Voltaire, "perhaps we are both mistaken."

Eighteen years ago the Ordnung family sold their farm and departed from the neighborhood in which both families had been close neighbors and warm friends, returning at different times and visiting at the Carey home, but this is the first visit Miss Carey has made the Ordnungs since living at Burlington Junction—Burlington Junction Post.

Shower for Mrs. Loffer.

A pleasant social event is in progress at Graham Friday afternoon. The friends of Mrs. James Loffer are giving a miscellaneous shower, preparatory to her trip to California, where she and her husband, Dr. James Loffer, will spend the winter. Dr. Loffer was the patient at St. Francis hospital who underwent the operation of skin grafting for serious burns he suffered in August in a boiler explosion, Mrs. Loffer making the necessary sacrifice. They will leave for California next week. Dr. Loffer had quite a sick spell from grip since he returned to Graham, and the stay in California the coming winter months is thought necessary for their recovery.

To the Ladies of Maryville and Vicinity

The Richardson Ladies' Tailoring and Dressmaking School now has over twenty students enrolled, who are taking the fall and winter course, and new students are enrolling daily. This school is meeting with good success, and we have decided to take in students the remainder of this week and give them the extreme low price of $25.00 for both courses, including drafting, designing, reproducing and fitting. Also sewing, making, finishing, pressing and tailoring, with unlimited instructions in the drafting and pattern making departments, with thirty days in the sewing and finishing department, with a complete set of the well known Richardson Tailor System included with their lessons, all for one price, $25.00. Students can pay $10.00 down when they register and the balance of $15.00 in thirty days. You can bring your own materials and sew on your own clothing while taking this course:

The following named ladies are a few of the ones who have entered the school here:

Miss Maybird Carver.
Mrs. Clara Myers.
Miss Ola King.
Miss Juie Vincent.
Miss Agatha Kirch.
Miss Flora Ellsworth.
Miss Josie Hagan.
Mrs. M. J. Boatman.
Miss Gertrude Kirch.
Miss Ruth White.
Miss Cornelia Faubion.
Miss Ora King.
Mrs. Martha J. Cook.
Miss Elizabeth Doran.
Miss Theresa Goodwin.
Mrs. Nannie Spoor.
Miss Lula Collins.
Mrs. Edith Lugar.
Miss Lena Bosley.

Remember, this low rate is for students that will enroll this week only, which only takes in four more days from today. This school will remain here all the winter, and all next year, and longer if we can get students enough to justify us to remain. This is your school, and I want you to help me to make it a success here in your city.

Students can make their own garments while learning, or sew for others.

Robbed Wichita Jeweler.

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 15.—A policeman saw a flashlight in a jewelry store at 2 a. m. and called to know what the man with the light was doing. The man left the room by a rear window, from which he had broken a pane. The officer gave chase, shooting several times. Later it was found that $1,000 worth of jewelry had been stolen.

Lake Boats in a Gale.

Detroit, Nov. 15.—Reports have just reached here that the passenger steamer City of Mackinac, plying between Detroit and Mackinac, narrowly escaped destruction in the violent wind and blinding snow storm that swept Lake Huron all afternoon and night. Owing to the late season there were only six passengers aboard the steamer.

Catholic Students Meet.

Ames, Ia., Nov. 15.—Catholic students from all parts of the United States are attending the 1912 convention of the American Association of Catholic Students, which opened here. Two hundred delegates, representing schools from the University of Columbia, west to the University of Denver, were present.

Testimony Favors McCanles.

Lincoln Center, Kan., Nov. 15.—The jury to hear the case in which W. W. McCanles is accused of improper relations with an orphan girl was completed and the taking of testimony began. The girl's story was distinctly favorable to McCanles. McCanles prosecuted men who took part in the tarring of a young woman at Shady Bend last summer.

Larz Anderson to Tokio.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Larz Anderson of Washington, now minister to Belgium, has been named ambassador to Japan to succeed Charles Page Bryan, whose resignation was announced a few days ago.

GOOD NEWS.

Many Maryville Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Maryville are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

J. E. Bratcher, 1302 East Second street, Maryville, Mo., says: "It gives me pleasure to verify the testimonial I gave for Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago. I had kidney complaint and Doan's Kidney Pills relieved it. Others in the family have used this remedy for backache and kidney trouble and it has always done good work. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Love & Gaugh's drug store and can say that they are a fine kidney medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.—Advertisement.

PLEASURE BOATS WENT OVER DAM

Two Gasoline Launches Met Disaster at La Grange, Ill.—Bodies of Occupants Lost.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 15.—Two gasoline launches bound from Chicago to St. Louis, plunged over the United States government dam at La Grange, Ill. None of the bodies of the occupants of either boat has been recovered.

The lock tenders heard cries for help and found the launch A. B. Moore hanging upside down from the top of the dam.

The other launch "Five Dollar Bill" was found in good condition a mile below the dam. Searchers were unable to recover the boat hanging over the dam, and the engines were removed together with hunting paraphernalia and two suitcases. Nothing was found to indicate the names of any of the victims.

Courtroom Tragedy Prevented by Prompt Action of Convicted Man's Wife.

Marietta, Ok., Nov. 15.—"I'll serve another sentence at the same time," said Benn Hall, when the clerk read the jury's verdict pronouncing him guilty of killing J. A. Parks. At the same time he drew a pistol and endeavored to aim it at Senator Clint Graham, who had prosecuted him. Hall's wife saw the move of her husband for his weapon and seized his arm before he could fire. With the assistance of District Judge Russell and Sheriff Cochran the convicted man was disarmed.

DOCTORS HURT IN MOTOR SPILL

Car Struck Soft Road, Breaking Axle and Injuring Four State Hospital Attaches.

Fulton, Mo., Nov. 15.—Four attaches of the Fulton state hospital, including two staff physicians, were injured when the motor car in which they were riding struck a soft spot in a road and tilted sufficiently to throw out the occupants of the car. The men were returning from a hunt. The front wheel was wrenched off at the axle and prevented the car from turning over and the men from more serious injuries.

The injured are: Dr. H. G. DuPuy, Dr. C. E. Singleton, Walter Pyles, officer, and Roy C. Taylor, storekeeper.

RIVER PASSENGER BOAT SANK

Eleven Dead and Three Others Found Half Frozen on Canadian Island.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 15.—Eleven persons probably perished when the steamboat Mayflower sank in the Madawaska river. A dispatch from Barry's Bay, three miles from the scene of the disaster, said that there was little hope that any more of those aboard the Mayflower, when it went down would be found alive.

Three survivors are so weak that they can tell little about the wreck. They were found half frozen on an island three miles below where the boat sank. A searching party has found only two bodies. A snow storm raged all night.

TEAMSTERS WANT MORE MONEY

Strike of 3,000 in Chicago, Over $1 Increase, Threatens to Involve 30,000.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Possibility of a general strike of the 30,000 teamsters, chauffeurs and helpers composing the local teamsters' union developed when 3,000 members of local union No. 705 went on strike because of a wage disagreement. The strikers were employed by ten contracting teaming concerns.

The question at dispute was the acceptance of a $1 a week increase for single teams and $1.50 a week for double teams set by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, effective November 1.

Miners Fired on Train.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 15.—Striking miners in the Cabin creek district and officers aboard a passenger train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad exchanged many shots. Officials of the road came to Charleston as soon as possible to take up the matter with Gov. Glasscock. It is probable the militia may be called out before daylight.

A $25,000 Express Robbery.

Lake Charles, La., Nov. 15.—The Wells-Fargo Express company's office here was robbed of a package of currency that is said to have contained $25,000. J. E. Chavis, night express clerk, who reported the robbery has been arrested.

Football Injury Fatal.

Burlington, N. J., Nov. 15.—Amos Pestridge, 10 years old, died from injuries received in a football scrimmage. He was kicked in the nose and a blood vessel was ruptured. For four days physicians tried vainly to stop the hemorrhage.

Got Tired of Prison.

Lansing, Kan., Nov. 15.—Tom Wind, a fullblooded Indian, escaped from the farm at the Kansas state penitentiary and has not been located. Wind was serving a sentence of 20 years for murder committed in Butler county. He had three years yet to serve.

Lynched by Mob.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 15.—Preech Neils, a negro arrested on a charge of double murder at McIntosh, Fla., was lynched by a mob at Ocala. More than 200 men surrounded the jail early in afternoon, but officers were unprepared for an attack.

RAILROADS PROPOSE TO STOP QUAIL SMUGGLING.

Animals Will Go Through Trains and Point Out Boxes and Suitcases Containing Birds.

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 15.—Bird dogs have been leased for the quail season by the Santa Fe, Rock Island and Frisco railroads to be used in Kansas and Oklahoma in detecting quail smugglers.

Shipping quail from one state to another is prohibited by law. Sportsmen forget this law and after a season's shooting either in western Kansas or in Oklahoma bring back suitcases and boxes filled with birds.

As a rule trainmen are unable to detect a suitcase filled with quail. Dogs are sent through the coaches at frequent intervals in the quail season and permitted to sniff baggage. If there is a dead quail thereabouts the dog detective points. The owner must show what his suitcase contains.

Sometimes the dogs get anxious and get a point on a cold fried chicken, but no harm is done. They never let any contraband quail get by. That's why these railroad companies pay out several hundred dollars each year in dog detective bills.

HOUSE OF COMMONS ADJOURNED

Further Sessions Postponed Till Monday, Following Riot—Apology to Churchill.

London, Nov. 15.—The house of commons adjourned in the afternoon until Monday, acting on a suggestion believed to have emanated from King George.

The proposal was made by Speaker Lowther, who intimated it would be advisable "for the house to take further time to consider the points at issue" between the two factions in regard to the home rule measure.

A graceful apology from Ronald McNeill, the Unionist member who hurled the book at Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, during the night's disturbance, helped to cool the atmosphere during the day. Churchill accepted the apology with equal heartiness.

Workers in Rubber Mill at Watertown, Mass., Threaten to Extend Trouble to Cambridge.

Watertown, Mass., Nov. 15.—Picket lines of the Industrial Workers of the World strikers near the mill of the Hood Rubber company, in East Watertown, were broken up by the police. Carlo Tresca, a national organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, who has taken charge of the strike, invaded the picket lines. He intimated there was a possibility of extending the strike to a rubber mill in Cambridge.

Nearly 4,000 persons are employed in the rubber mill here. About 1,500 Industrial Workers of the World struck, alleging members of their organization had been discriminated against by the company officials.

New Railroad in Texas.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 15.—R. A. Love of Kansas City and Foster Crane, have been awarded the contract to build a standard gage railroad from Fredericksburg to Comfort, 25 miles. The contract price is $40,000. Mr. Love says he will finish the road within ten months. The new line will connect with the San Antonio & Aransas Pass road at Comfort.

Felix Diaz Still in Prison.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 15.—Dr. P. Canelas, Mexican consul general here has been advised officially by his government that Gen. Felix Diaz, who led the recent revolution in Vera Cruz, still was in prison there. Recently a report was widely circulated that he had escaped.

MADAM! IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT TAKE DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

All women get bilious, headachy and constipated—simply because they don't exercise enough. They don't eat coarse food, or enough fruit and green vegetables. Those are nature's ways of keeping the liver and thirty feet of bowels active; but very few women employ them. The next best way is delightful fruity Syrup of Figs.

Nearly all ills of women can be overcome with Syrup of Figs alone. There is no need to have sick headache, backache, dizziness, stomach sour and full of gases, bilious spells, sallowness, coated tongue, bad breath, bad complexion, nervousness and depression. The surest and safest remedy is one or two teaspoonfuls of delicious Syrup of Figs. Try this tonight—you'll feel splendid in the morning when the sour bile, clogged up waste and poisonous matter have been gently but thoroughly moved on and out of your system, without pause, griping or weakness. Your head will be clear, complexion rosy, breath sweet, stomach regulated; no more constipation, gases, pains and aches.

It is simply a matter of keeping your stomach, liver and bowels clean and regular. Then you will always be well—always look and feel your best.

But get the genuine—the old reliable. Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with contempt, the so-called Fig Syrups sometimes substituted to fool you. The true, genuine, bears the name California Fig Syrup Company; look for this on the label.—Advertisement.

A Simple Remedy Gives Color, Strength and Beauty to the Hair.

You don't have to have gray hair or faded hair if you don't want to. Why look old or unattractive? If your hair is gray or faded, you can change it easily, quickly and effectively by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. Apply a little tonight, and in the morning you will be agreeably surprised at the results from a single application. The gray hairs will be less conspicuous, and after a few more applications will be restored to natural color.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur also quickly removes dandruff, leaves the scalp clean and healthy, and promotes the growth of the hair. It is a clean wholesome dressing which may be used at any time with perfect safety.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and see how quickly it will restore the youthful color and beauty of your hair and forever end the nasty dandruff, hot, itchy scalp and falling hair. All druggists sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if you are not satisfied after fair trial.

VARIOUS SAUCES FOR FISH

Different Mixtures Are Required for the Different Species That May Be Served.

A hostess home from Spain brought with her a fish sauce which is popular with the Spaniards. Its foundation is a thick French dressing made of one tablespoon of vinegar to eight of oil. It is seasoned with a half teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of mustard and paprika enough to color.

Into this dressing is mixed the finely chopped whites and yolks—each separately—of three hard-boiled eggs, a dozen chopped olives and half a dozen chopped sweet red peppers.

Mayonnaise served in a small silver or china sauce boat is often passed with fried smelts, halibut, scallops and eels. This may have half dozen sweet pickles chopped in it or a tablespoonful of capers.

Some hostesses serve extra drawn butter in a separate sauce boat, with broiled mackerel or bluefish. This should be highly seasoned with pepper and may be colored with paprika, or should be nicely browned.

A nice sauce for shell fish is made by using the broth that comes from steaming, or a little of the clam broth that is jarred. Fry six small onions in butter, but do not color a deep brown, thicken with a tablespoonful of flour; then reduce to a creamy gray, with the broth. Season well with cayenne and a little salt. Just before serving stir in the yolk of an egg, a sherry glass of white wine, the same amount of cream and some chopped chives or capers.

TO BRAISE A GUINEA HEN

Excellent Dish May Be Made From Fowl If Necessary Time and Care Is Given.

A young, tender guinea fowl is not to be despised. When well selected and cooked, it is not very unlike a partridge. A young fowl can be told by pressing the breast bone at the tip; if it is pliant, the wings very tender, the legs smooth, free from feathers and a pale yellow color, buy it. A young fowl will require about one hour and fifteen minutes for braising—older ones double the time. Dress and truss as chicken. Melt a tablespoonful of butter in the pan; when hot, lay in the guinea and turn on all sides until lightly browned; add a sliced carrot, small onion, bits of celery, a cup of tomato juice or stock; cover closely and cook very slowly and gently until tender. Salt lightly after it has cooked an hour. A casserole is better than a covered roaster for braising. Serve on a platter, garnished with watercress, the gravy in a sauce boat.—National Food Magazine.

Steamed Rice and Salmon.

A way to use salmon a little different from the usual recipe is as follows: Line a bread pan, slightly buttered, with warm steamed rice. Fill the center with cold boiled salmon, flaked and seasoned with salt, pepper and a slight grating of nutmeg. Cover with rice and steam one hour. Run on a hot platter for serving and pour around egg sauce, one-third cup butter, three tablespoons flour, one and one-half cups hot water, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, beaten yolks of three eggs and one teaspoon lemon juice. Melt half butter, add flour with seasonings and pour on gradually hot water. Boil five minutes and add remaining butter in small pieces.

Uses for Parsley.

You can flavor a lot of things with parsley. Cut it up fine and put in soup. It makes a different kind of soup altogether, and I am sure you will be pleased with the result. If you would like a few Swedish dishes in which parsley is used I would like to send them to you. I would like to send you my way of putting up parsley for the winter if you have it in the garden. Don't you ever put parsley in your gravies and stuffing for fowls? I use parsley at nearly every meal, both for cooking and garnishing. Wish you would try some of my Swedish dishes. They are plain but very good.

Eggplant Fritters.

Sift thoroughly one cup of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper. Add enough milk to make a stiff batter and one egg well beaten. Then stir into it the mashed egg-plant pulp. Drop this, a spoonful at a time, in hot fat and fry a golden brown. Use olive oil or cotton seed oil in preference to lard in frying, as it is more palatable and healthful.

Oxford Salad.

Small leaves of lettuce, three to each guest. On each a slice of orange, cut not too thin. On each slice of orange place a strip of canned red sweet pepper. Over all pour a dressing made of the juice from the ends of of oranges, a little of pepper liquor and plenty of salt. Very pretty and so good.

Pumpkin Fritters.

One pint of pumpkin boiled and sifted, one pint of milk, two eggs, one half teaspoon salt, pinch of ginger, one teaspoon molasses, flour to make a batter stiff enough to drop on griddle as for buckwheat.

Tea Cake.

Half cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, one-half teaspoon salt, one egg, one cup sweet milk, two teaspoons baking powder and two and one-half cups of flour. Bake in moderate oven about 30 minutes.

SHOULD SHOW BRIGHT SIDE

Mr. Balfour's Idea of Literature Will Be Indorsed by Many of His Readers.

Mr. Balfour, in proposing the toast of "Literature" at the anniversary dinner of the Royal Literary fund at the Whitehall rooms recently, said:

"I think that literature is less cheerful now than it was when I was young. It may be because I am growing old that I take this gloomier view of literary effort, but still I personally like the spring day and bright sun and the birds singing, and if there be a shower or a storm, that it should be simply a passing episode in the landscape, to be followed immediately by a return to brilliant sunshine. While that is what I prefer I of course admit that the great, the picturesque, the striking storm is a magnificent subject for artistic treatment and is well worthy of the efforts of a great artist.

"I am not quite so sure, however, about the dreary day in which nothing is seen, in which the landscape does not change, in which there is a steady but not violent downpour of rain. I do not say that that ought not to be treated as a subject of literature, but it is not what I ask of literature.

"What I ask from literature mainly is that in a world that is full of sadness and full of difficulty, in which you come through the day wearied, in which you come back from your work wearied, you should find in literature something which represents life which is true in the higher sense of truth or what is imagined to be true, but which does cheer us. Therefore when I ask you to drink the toast of literature I shall myself sotto voce say 'not literature merely, but that literature in particular which served the great cause of cheering us up.'"—London Daily Mail.

MANY HOUSES OLD MAIDISH

Ida Tarbell Coins a Phrase That Seems to Pretty Well Express the Idea Conveyed.

One of the most repellent houses in which I have ever visited was one in which there was from garret to cellar, so far as I discovered, not one article which was not of the period imitated, not one streak of color which was not "right," Ida M. Tarbell writes in the American magazine. It was a masterpiece of correct furnishing, but it was curiously limiting and stifling. You could not escape the scheme. The inelasticity of it hampered sociability—and there grew on one, too, a sense of unfitness. Its clothes were an anachronism! They were the only thing which did not belong.

There is an old fashioned adjective which describes better than any other this preoccupation with things, which so often prevents a woman's coming to an understanding of the heart of her business. It is old maidish. It has often been the pathetic fate of single women to live alone. To minister to themselves becomes their occupation. The force of their natures turns to their belongings. If in straitened circumstances they gave their souls to spotless floors, if rich to flawless mahogany and china, to perfect household machinery. Wherever you find in women this perversion—old maidish is perhaps the most accurate word for her—it is a sacrifice of the human to the material. A house without sweet human litter, without the trace of friends who have no sense of beauty, but who love to give, without the scars of use and the dust of running feet—what is it but a meatless shell?

NECK RUCHE HERE TO STAY

Despite Its Being Discarded by Parisians American Women Regard It With Favor.

As most of us have already noticed, the tulle neck ruche is coming along in great shape and rapidly becoming a fashion. That is, on this side of the ocean. I made a note to this effect not long ago. Some one who read the item asked me if I didn't know that the Parisians were laughing at us about this little matter of the ruche. I said no, why were they laughing about it and he said because they'd fooled us. They gave out that neck ruches were to be in order, everybody doing it, that sort of thing, don't you know and we "bit!" Whereas no one who really knows anything about such matters would ever be guilty of wearing a ruche. Think of it! The atrocity! The blunder! "The social error!" To wear a ruche when a Parisian wouldn't! Isn't it awful? I said I thought the joke was not on us but on Paris. We'll wear our ruffles if we want to. There are moments when I think that Paris might well go 'way back and sit down.—Exchange.

CONSERVE THE MANURE

IT RAPIDLY LOSES ITS VALUE IF NOT PROPERLY CARED FOR.

By M. F. Miller, Professor of Agronomy, College of Agriculture, University of Missouri.

Of the different ways of handling manure no other is so saving of fertility as that of hauling and scattering the manure as it is made. This gives the least possible chance for loss, either through leaching or fermentation. It is true that there are millions of dollars' worth of manure wasted annually in Missouri through improper handling. It is a common and a wasteful practice to pile the manure out of doors and haul it onto the fields two or three times a year. Experiments have been made which show that manure exposed to the weather for 100 days may lose half of its fertility.

There are at least two good ways of handling the manure. That of hauling to the field directly is one of the best. When the ground is too soft to haul onto the field, the manure is stored under roof.

Another practical method is to allow the manure to accumulate under an open shed where stock is running. As the manure gathers it is packed down by the stock running over it and kept moist by the liquid manure. In this condition there is very little loss. This method is easily followed when there is an open shed close to the horse or cow stable.

Some men allow their manure to rot before applying it to the land. This is a common practice with gardeners. When treated in this manner, manure acts more quickly, because it is well advanced in decomposition. However, for the farmer this method cannot be recommended. The manure has lost about one-half its organic matter and some of its phosphorus and potassium. It should be allowed to rot in the soil so as to save practically all of its fertilizing material.

The liquid manure, which is so often wasted in the stable, is a valu

ble fertilizer and should be gathered in the bedding and handled with the solid manure.

The two common sources of loss are by leaching and by fermentation. The first is prevented by keeping the manure under shed. The second is prevented by keeping th manure moist or by keeping it compact so the air is excluded. When a pile of manure smokes" it is losing fertility and should be scattered or moistened by pouring water over it.

As soon as the farmers know how much their lands need the manure and know the conditions which prevent the manure from losing its fertility, it will be handled as carefully as a crop of corn or other grain.

IF ONE WOULD DRESS WELL

Poiret, the Famous Parisian Dressmaker, Lays Down Ten Commandments.

To the woman who would be well dressed, Paul Poiret writes "The Ten Commandments in the autumn fashion number of Harper's Bazar for October as follows:

1. Choose whatever is most becoming to your beauty—tightly fitting garments or loose-flowing ones, the strictly tailor-made, or the more elaborate.
2. Choose the colors which go well with your complexion, your hair, your eyes.
3. Observe the decorum and wear appropriate dresses in appropriate places. It is because of her ability to understand the eternal fitness of things that the Parisienne is so often the queen of large social functions!
4. This year, for instance, I am bringing out more dresses built on straight lines.
5. If fringes such as I border gowns with do not fit in with your personality, dare to wear any other kind of trimming that does!
6. I am keeping the light chiffon over-skirt which harmonizes or contrasts with the silk foundation. But if that is not suitable to you, dare to wear heavy brocades and satins.
7. Personally I like strong colors, colors of life and poetry, but if pastel shades are becoming, wear them, no matter what is the fashion!
8. If the high waist line such as I still advocate does not reveal the good points of your figure, do not adopt it!
9. Have the waist line wherever it is becoming to you!
10. I like the tight skirt and am making it this year. But if you look better in a wide one, do not sacrifice your beauty in a vain attempt at being fashionable!
